Project: Spotify Clone

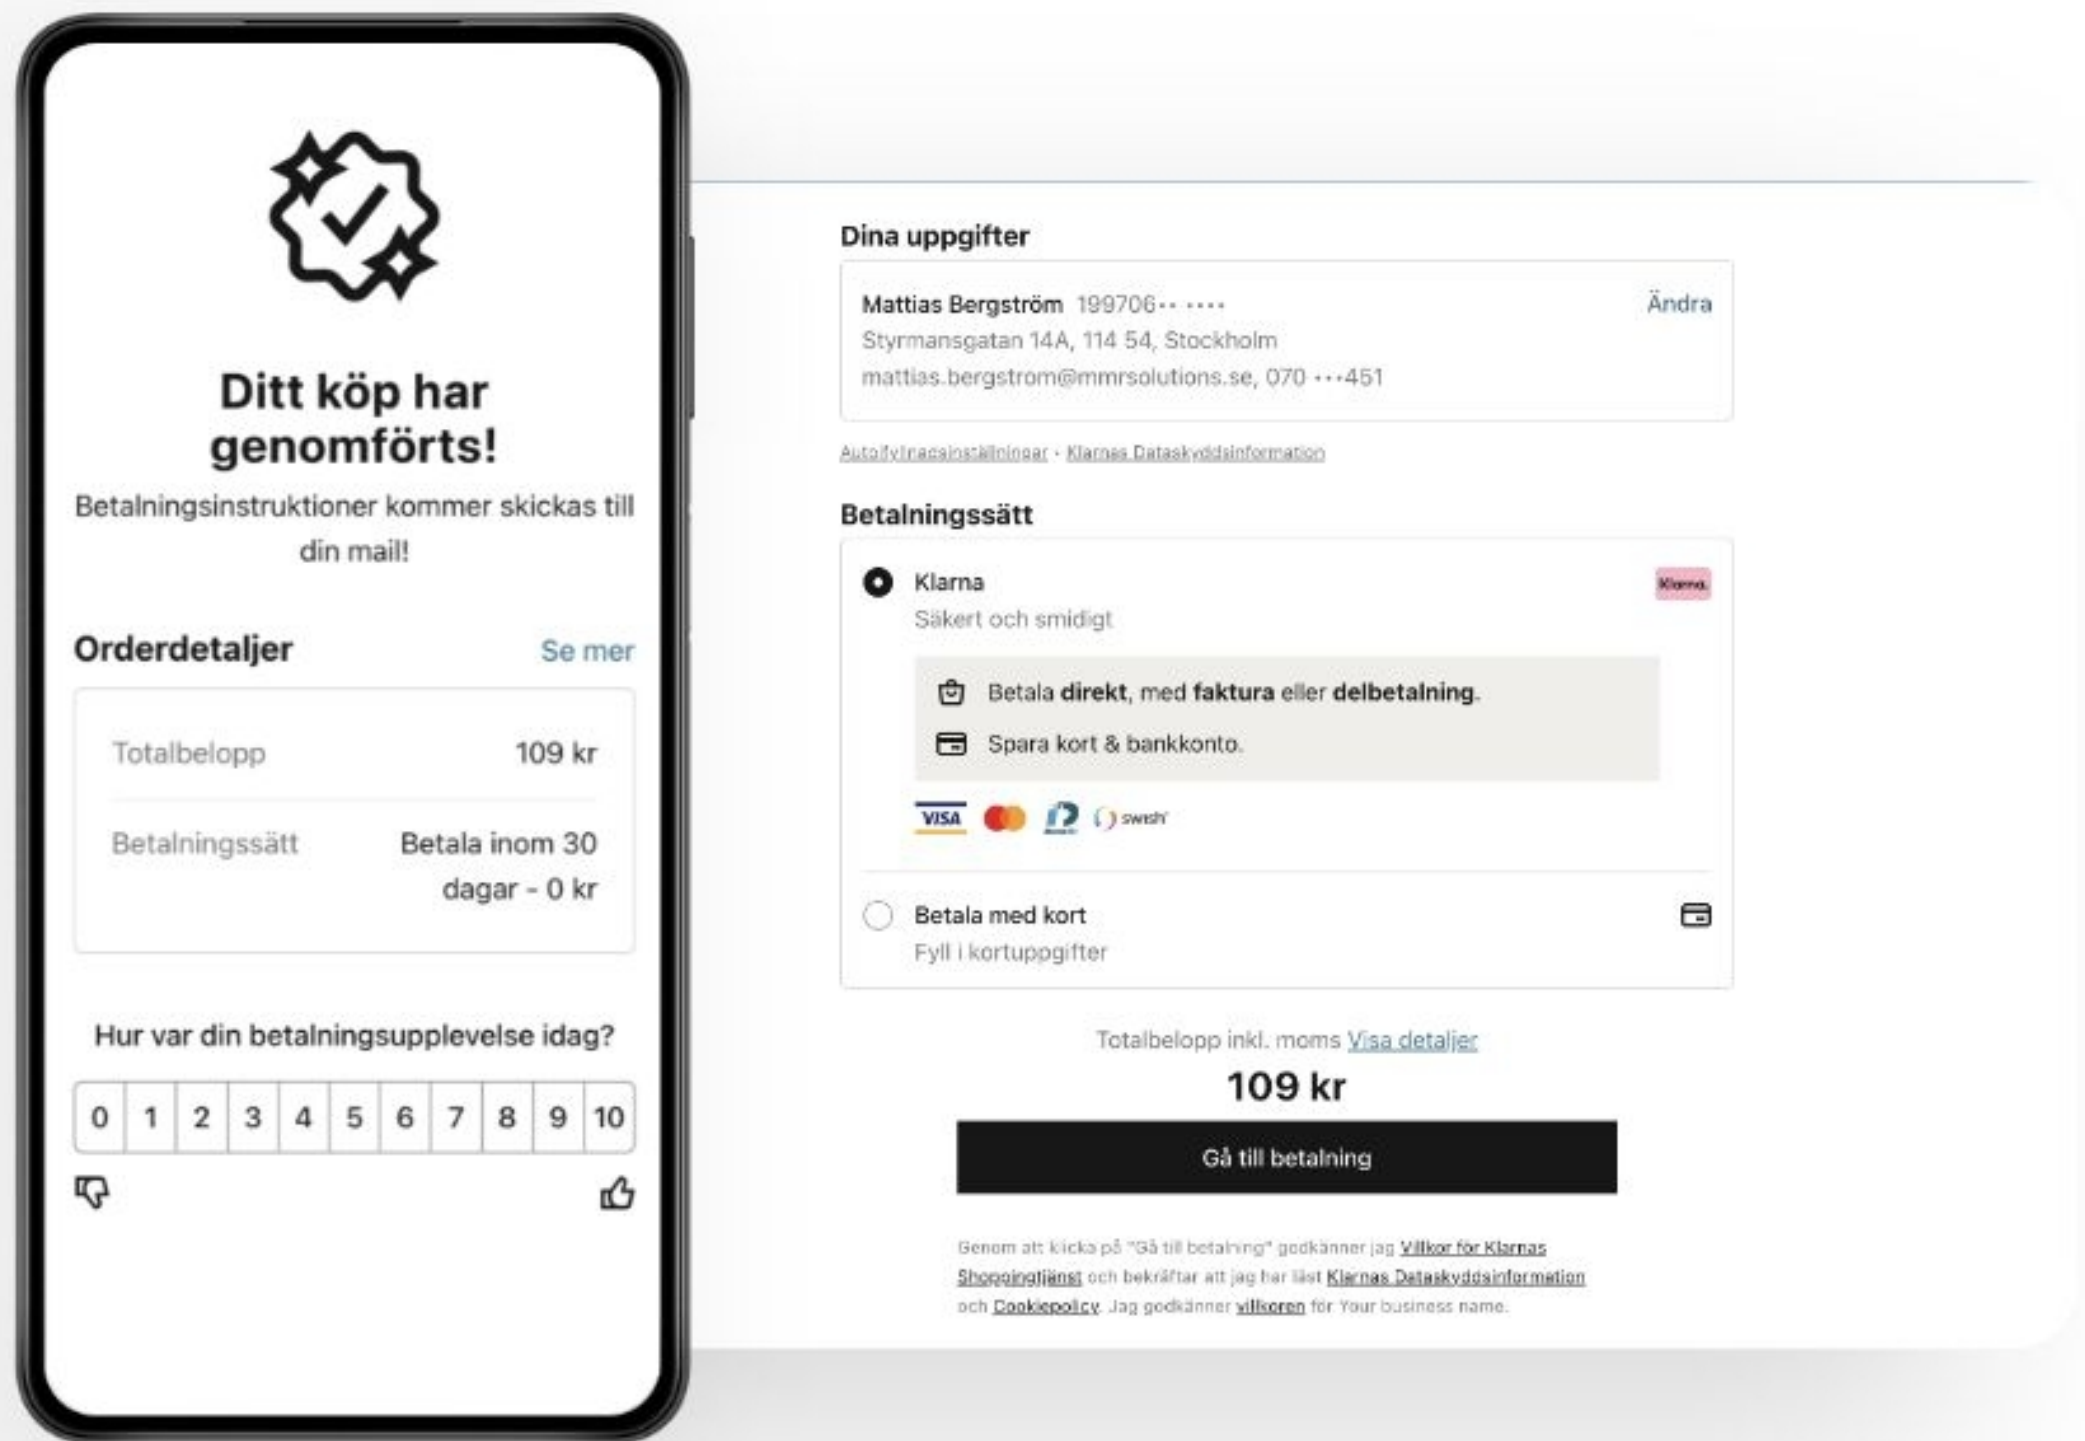

Project: Spotify Clone

Javascript, React, Spotify API, Basic Auth, CSS, Git

I developed a Spotify clone utilizing the Spotify API. This application allows users to log in to their actual Spotify accounts, access their personal playlists, and play, pause, and skip songs within their playlists.

Project: Klarna Checkout

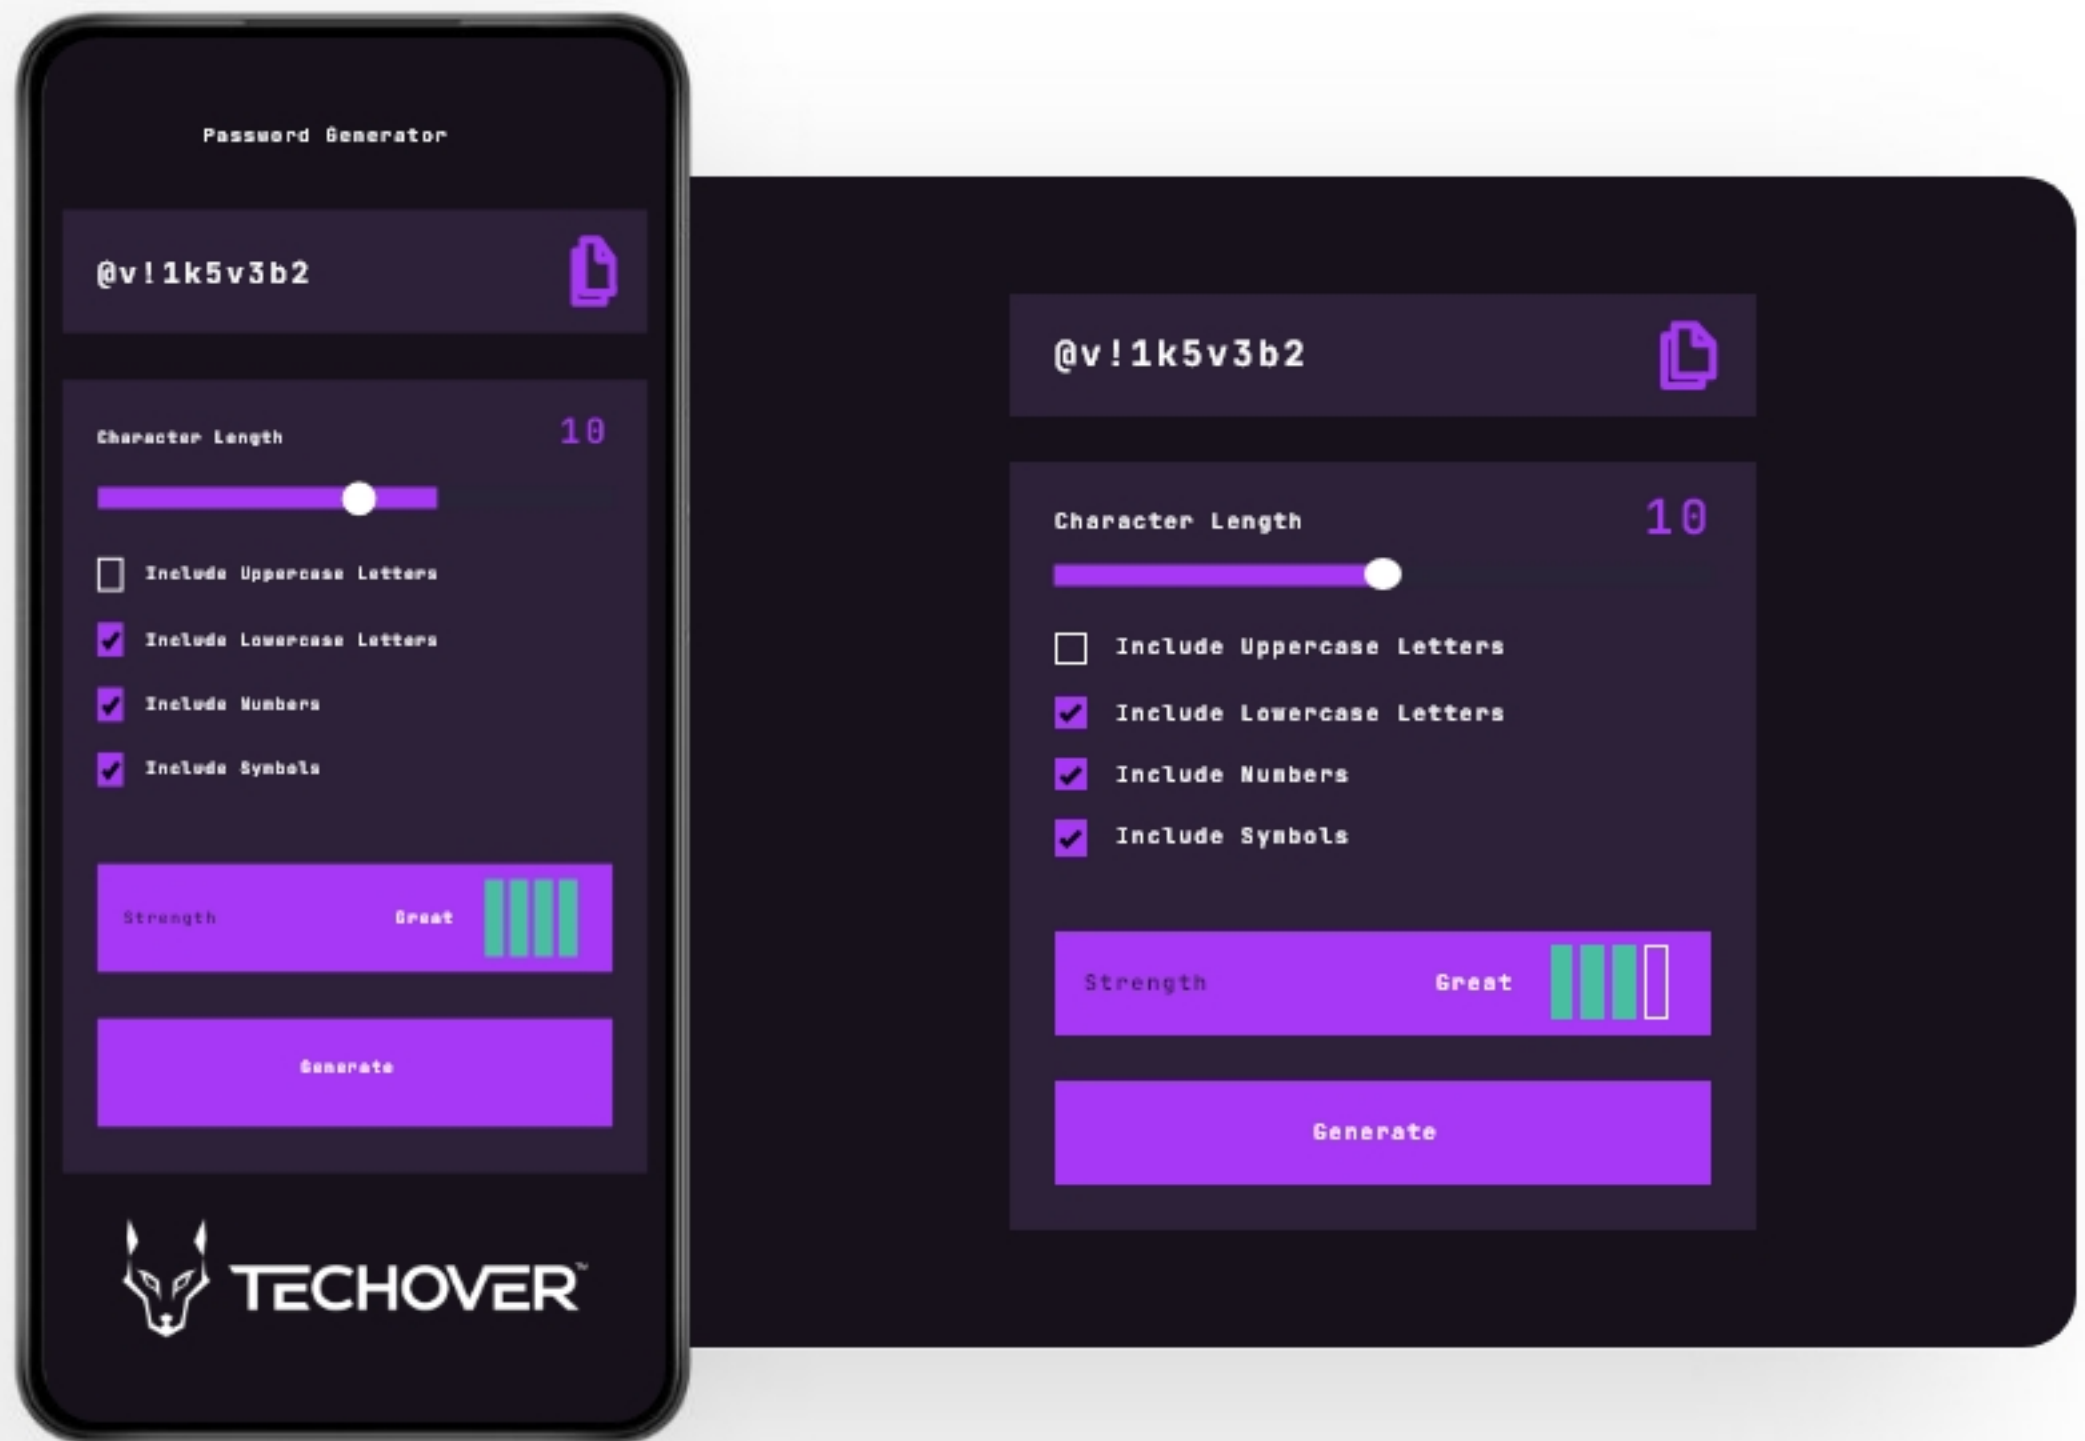

Javascript, NodeJS, Express, Basic Auth, Klarna API, Git

Using Klarna's API documentation, I constructed a Klarna Checkout system that serves as both a standalone payment portal and an integration option for other e-commerce websites.

I would be delighted to showcase this project during a potential interview and provide further details!

Project: Password Generator

Javascript, ES6, HTML, CSS & Git

I developed a robust password generator app with user-centric functionalities. It enables users to generate passwords based on preferences, copy to clipboard, and assess the strength of the password.

I have ensured optimal interface across devices for seamless user experience.

About me

About me

In my role as Team Leader at Academic Market Analysis, I have not only successfully led my team to shared goals but also initiated actions to promote collaboration and efficiency. This experience is a clear testament to my ability to navigate and excel in a professional environment, where I always strive to raise the bar.

Recognized as the "Player of the Year" as the senior player at my local tennis club, I've demonstrated not only skill on the tennis court but also a dedication to continuous improvement and a passion for the sport. I believe in constantly striving to become better and exceed expectations, whether it's in the professional sphere or during my leisure time.

During my time as Marketing Manager at a prominent consulting firm from 2021 to 2022, I developed and implemented successful sales strategies to increase customer acquisition. I was responsible for recruitment, training, salary management, and coaching within the organization. My leadership experience spans various areas, from strategic planning to personnel development.

Between 2017 and 2020, as Contract Manager at Academic Market Analysis, I excelled as a meeting coordinator, promoting sales within the company. By developing strong communication skills and effective time management, I succeeded in strengthening customer relationships and contributing to the overall success of the company.

I am not just a driven and results-oriented individual, but also a leader who constantly strives for improvement. Whether in the business world or on the tennis court, my goal is to continue challenging myself and delivering superior performances. This mindset gives me a powerful advantage in web development, where the passion for improvement and goal-oriented approach lays a strong foundation for success.
